OFFICIAL REPORTS.

CANTERBURY, N. H.

1885.

OUR MINERVA BOOT.

It has been the aim of all ages to produce in a boot, at a low figure, all the qualities contained in one at a high price, such as style, fit, finish, and durability. This boot is made from a Curacao Kid, with French button piece, worked button-hole, fitted with the best of silk, on Spanish arch last, French heel, flexible insole, sole leather counters. This boot we carry in the different widths, and offer at $2.50 a pair, and defy any other house to produce as good for the money.

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers.

Statesman Building, CONCORD, N. H.

Another gem to which we would call special attention is our Ladies' Kid utton, which is made of good kid, Bworked button hole, over-lap, quartered scallop top, and solid soles.

SCHOOL REPORT.

DISTRICT NO. 1—Blanchard.

Summer term taught by Miss Rose M. Colby. Number of weeks, 10 ; number of pupils, 26 ; average attendance, 22 ; wages per month, including board, $20. Fall term of 10 weeks ; number of pupils, 25 ; average, 23 ; wages, $22.

At our early visits we found the pupils interested in their studies, being orderly and quiet. The closing exercises showed they had not spent their time in vain, but reflected credit upon both teacher and pupils.

Winter term of 9 weeks, taught by Miss Nettie C. Sargent of Warner. Number of pupils, 20 ; average, 16 ; wages, $25.40.

Miss Sargent is an experienced teacher, and a good disciplinarian. We liked the thorough manner in which she instructed her pupils, and noted fair progress. She says Frankie G. Blanchard, only seven years of age, has not missed a question during the term.

DISTRICT NO. 2—Emery.

Summer term of 7 weeks, taught by Miss Maude W. Conant. Number of pupils, 15 ; average, 13 ; wages, $18.

Miss Conant took great pains to interest her pupils in their studies; her labors were rewarded by an effort on the part of the scholars, which rendered the school a success.

Fall term of 9 weeks, taught by Miss Grace E. Colby. Number of pupils, 11; average, 10; wages, $18.

Miss Colby's system of instruction was excellent, the order good. We have never heard some of the pupils recite so correctly and with such promptness as they did at the close of this term.

DISTRICT NO. 3—Borough.

Summer term of 10 weeks, taught by Miss Anna E. Sanborn. Number of pupils, 10; average, 8; wages, $18.

Fall term of 13 weeks, taught by Mrs. Anna E. Heath. Number of pupils, 8; average, 5; wages, $20.

This district seems to appreciate the services of Mrs. Heath, who has taught here several terms before, always doing what she can to interest and help her scholars on, in a thorough, practical course of study; good order prevailed, and the recitations were good.

DISTRICT NO. 4—Baptist.

Fall term of 10 weeks, taught by Miss Maude W. Conant. Number of pupils, 12; average, 10; wages, $24.

Miss Conant labored with the same untiring energy here, that she did in the Emery district. Nearly all the pupils became interested in their studies and made good progress. Better discipline would add greatly to her proficiency as a teacher.

Winter term of 11 weeks, taught by Miss Conant. Number of pupils, 13; average, 10; wages, $24.

DISTRICT NO. 5—Hacklebrough.

Fall term of 6 weeks, taught by Mrs. Mary L. Cofran, of Pembroke. Number of pupils, 9 ; average, 9 ; wages, $30.

Winter term of 7 weeks, by Mrs. Cofran. Number of pupils, 9 ; average, 9 ; wages, $26.56.

Mrs. Cofran is a very thorough instructor and one of our best disciplinarians. The pupils were very punctual in their attendance, studious and orderly, manifesting an interest seldom seen in so small a school. The result was satisfactory.

DISTRICT NO. 6—Hillsville.

Summer term of 7 weeks, taught by Miss Ella C. Hancock. Number of pupils, 22 ; average, 19 ; wages, $28.

Fall term of 8 weeks, taught by George H. Ingalls. Number of pupils, 21 ; average, 18 ; wages, $28.

Both terms were under the instruction of experienced teachers, who labored hard to instruct their pupils. We found a little lack of interest on the part of some, while others, better appreciating the efforts of their teachers, were more studious and made good progress.

DISTRICT NO. 7—Center.

Summer term of 10 weeks, taught by Mrs. Minnie F. Frame. Number of pupils, 43 ; average, 40 ; wages, $28.

Mrs. Frame labored diligently and faithfully, and met with a good degree of success, while most of the pupils did well ; some seemed to be a little indifferent and did not manifest as much interest as we like to see.

Fall term of 10 weeks, taught by George W. Clough, of Warner. Number of pupils, 46 ; average, 41 ; wages, $34 ; length of winter term 9 weeks ; number of pupils, 50 ; average, 48 ; wages, $40.

Mr. Clough came here highly recommended : his natural ability is of a high order, which he has not neglected to improve by culture and practice, thus eminently fitting himself to interest, manage and instruct pupils in a thorough practical manner; he taught his pupils, not only to do and explain, but to think and act for themselves; thus interested, they made rapid progress in all their studies; perfect order and harmony prevailed. The school was a success in every respect.

DISTRICT NO. 8—Shakers.

Summer term of 14 weeks, taught by L. Jeannette Forest and Jessie Evans. Number of pupils, 22; average, 20; wages, $36. The uniform good behavior of the pupils, guaranteed that the teachers had not only labored faithfully, but very successfully during the term. At the examination the reading exercises were distinctly and naturally given; class recitations thorough; penmanship fair; copy books neat and well kept; map drawing well performed; miscellaneous questions met with prompt replies; exercises in vocal gymnastics, singing and marching, repeating, explaining and comparing the metric system with the old system of weights and measures, all together led the able and veteran teacher, Aenath C. Stickney, to say: "We certainly were never better satisfied with the general intelligence of the pupils at any previous examination during the past thirty years of our school experience."

Winter term of 15 weeks, taught by Agnes E. Newton. Number of pupils, 17; average, 15; wages, $36.

The teacher has been thorough and spared no pains with her pupils, who have been very gentlemanly in their conduct throughout the term and made very commendable progress in all their studies.

DISTRICT NO. 9—Union.

Reported in London.

DISTRICT NO. 10—Deport.

One term of 12 weeks, taught by Miss Nellie S. French, of Northfield. Number of pupils, 11; average, 9; wages, $24.

Miss French is an experienced teacher and conducted this school very successfully; the pupils showed unusual interest in their studies and did credit to themselves and their teacher at the examination. Their studiousness and good conduct made this the most pleasureable school their teacher ever taught.

DISTRICT NO. 11—Upper Interrale.

Summer term of 6 weeks, taught by Harry B. French, of Northfield. Number of pupils, 6; average, 6; wages, $16.

Mr. French is a young and inexperienced teacher; his literary attainments are good, and with practice may become a proficient instructor; he did very well and his pupils made fair progress.

Fall term of 6 weeks, taught by Miss Edith G. Sanborn, of East Concord. Miss Sanborn was successful, being thorough in her instruction and keeping good order.

DISTRICT NO. 12—Carter.

There has been no school in this district.

GENERAL REMARKS.

FELLOW-CITIZENS :—In presenting to you this annual report of our schools we can say they have been generally quite successful, some of them have been even model schools, that have been admired and appreciated by many of our citizens, where both teacher and pupils have acquitted themselves throughout the term with noble honor ; schools that any town might well be proud of. Aside from the ability and enterprise of the teachers we attribute much of this success to the general harmony prevailing among the people of each district, which is very commendable ; again our committees have tried to secure good teachers that would try and do their whole duty.

In some districts, teachers as well as our children, are obliged to occupy school rooms unfit for use ; some of these lack the necessary charts, maps, good and convenient blackboards, and a globe, so essential in every school.

There are several pupils in our schools that are worthy of some special notice for being punctual in their attendance, for not whispering, for their studiousness, scholarship and general good conduct. These pupils are known and they are the ones that will be likely to become our successful teachers and fill other places of trust and honor in the near future, while another class, that might be mentioned, if they should seek employment as teachers, may have to go into other towns to find it ; this is more or less apparent to every observing, thinking individual.

The physiologies introduced have been eagerly sought and thoroughly studied, and will no doubt prove very beneficial; the chapters devoted to stimulants cannot be too deeply impressed upon the minds of our youth. In some schools writing has received the attention which it so highly deserves, and we have many pupils that are good penmen; we hope this branch will not be neglected in any school, but that our teachers will in the future see that every pupil of suitable age attend to writing daily, and as some never write compositions, the writing exercises one day each week could be profitably spent by all writing upon one common subject, to be corrected and criticised by the teacher.

Declamations and recitations have received considerable attention in all the schools, and singing in some of them.

We hope parents and friends will manifest their interest in our schools by visiting them earlier and oftener in the term than they have been accustomed to.

Respectfully submitted,

A. S. BRONSON,

Supt. School Committee.
